Hurricane Irma, one of the most intense hurricanes ever recorded in the Atlantic Ocean, brought destruction through the Caribbean, across the entire state of Florida, and extending north to Georgia and surrounding states.

St. Thomas in the U.S. Virgin Islands was pounded by the storm (see photo on reverse). St. Thomas Reformed Church was largely undamaged, but many in the congregation experienced flooding and severe damage to their homes. Some family homes were completely destroyed. In spite of those pressing needs, the church has come together to feed hundreds of people on the island in the days after the hurricane hit.

It may be some time before we know how best to help St. Thomas Reformed Church long-term. And the needs assessment in Florida is just beginning as flood waters recede. We don't yet know the full extent of the need in response to this hurricane, but it will be vast.

Your offering today is vital. It will go toward long-term support and rebuilding efforts for storm survivors who are least likely to receive adequate assistance while recovering from Hurricane Irma. RCA Global Mission is teaming up with World Renew Disaster Response Services to prepare for the rebuilding effort that lays ahead.
